Revised
Design

Commodore adjustable radius rods are now made in Australia !

These newly designed rods suit all Commodores from VB to VS. Two different models are available. KRR207 is sold as a single rod that will add up to 2.0 deg positive castor to existing settings using shim adjustment. For outright performance, choose kit number KRR207X. Sold as a packaged kit comprising 2 complete rods and low compliance poly bush sets plus all necessary installation hardware.

These rods are now made in Australia from quality spring steel and are powder coated for durability. The bushes are specially designed to suit the rods and are made from engineering grade polyurethane. Fitting instructions included.
